PART I

Nonsense Verses

IAMBIC PENTAMETER

A bright fellow wrote nonsense rhyme
The whole lot wasn't worth a dime
So dumb was the verse
He would not have done worse
Had he written iambic pentameter

POET FROM MINSK

There was a young poet from Minsk
His verses really did stinsk
So bad was his rhyme
He hadn't a dime
That ought to make you stop and thinsk

POET WITH AN ORANGE

There was a young poet with an orange
With no rhyme to be had
He almost went mad
So he got a banana
Moved to Guyana
And never was heard from again

WRITER WITH A PREPOSITION

There was a young writer with a preposition
With which he ended his composition
His prose was immaculate
But his critics did ejaculate
“A preposition is a bad thing to end a composition with!”

GRAMMARIAN

There was a young grammarian whose participle
Dangled and also was not fixable
So mangled was his syntax
It demyelinated the synapse
Of whomsoever happened to listen

MILLER'S DAUGHTER

There was a miller's young daughter
She didn't brush as often as she oughtta
The dentist sent her a bill
Because gingivitis did fill
And some floss she did find on the mill

TOUCAN IN TUSCANY

There was a young toucan in Tuscany
Where the cost of living grew abundantly
But he still had some fun
In the long run
He was the toucan that lived as cheaply as one

ALLERGY DOCTOR

There was a young allergy doctor
Who lost more patients than he oughtta
One patient would sneeze
Another would wheeze
And a third stung to death by bees

JAPANESE GIRL

A young Japanese girl wrote haiku
The only rhyme she could find was psycho
She messed up the meter
So the zen master did beat her
And she took up electrical engineering instead

ELEVATOR OPERATOR

There was an old elevator operator
He went up and down more than he oughtta
He packed in a group tour
Went up to four
And descended to pick up the rest

PIZZA CHEF FROM NAPLES

There was a young pizza chef from Naples
He kneaded some dough
Until he head enough
Added tomato sauce, cheese, and some oreganough

BOWLER FROM AKRON

There was a young bowler from Akron
His outfit was made of Dacron
He always did miss
His seven ten splits
So he took up knitting instead

URBAN APARTMENT DWELLER

There was an urban apartment dweller
The myth is he was quite a feller
He leased the whole roof
But to tell you the truth
He spent most of his time in the cellar

WRITER WITH A BLOCK

There was a young writer with a block
All he could do was talk
Not one word from his pen
Was forthcoming again
And Chapter One was a half-finished flop

GIRL FROM ROME

There was a young girl from Rome
It was past curfew when she finally got home
She said she was late
Because she kissed her date
And she was never allowed out again

LADY FROM CHINA

There was a young lady from China
Who was a famous interior designer
She hung a picture with care
Brushed off a stray hair
Was satisfied and exclaimed
“There, there!”

HALF FULL

An optimist had a pessimist daughter
She was thirsty so he brought her some water
The glass was half full
But she wouldn't drink it until
The half that was empty was filled

JUDGE WHO LOVED TO PLAY TENNIS

There was a judge who loved to play tennis
He arrived at the court
But his serve was too short
It hit the defendant, two lawyers, and the clerk

PROSECUTOR DEMANDED MORE

There was a judge in the court
But his sentence was way too short
The prosecutor demanded more
The judge stopped at the door
And spent the next hour and a half pronouncing a real long run-on sentence that kept going on until it was time to recess and everyone fell asleep

AARDVARK NAMED SAM

There was a young aardvark named Sam
He went to a reunion of his clan
Meeting his cousins was a big thrill
And for dessert he swallowed his aunts on the hill

ELEPHANT

An elephant moves a short length
And uses so much energy and strength
You can have some cruel fun
Throw him peanuts one by one
And watch the poor fellow starve to death

GIRL NAMED VIOLETTE

There was a young girl named Violette
She dated a navy piolette
He took her for a spin
She threw up all over him
And changed her name to Jane

There was an ancient Roman
He really was quite a slow man
He was late at the the forum
Where they awaited a quorum
When he arrived they could finally begin

THE ARTIST VERMEER

In Delft lived the artist Vermeer
His model always was near
His camera obscura
Caused quite a furor
When he painted a pearl on her ear

GÖDEL

Gödel was quite a deferential
When reading a poem self-referential
He was said to be discreet
If the poem was incomplete
But no one could ever quite prove it

THERAPIST IN KUWAIT

There was a famous therapist in Kuwait
He specialized in patients who couldn't help being late
Not one ever paid him on time
In fact he never collected a dime
To this day not one has ever shown up for a session

MY DENTIST

A professional journal addressed to my dentist
The cover showed rich people playing golf and tennis
Investment advice made his life very nice
But not a word about root canals, crowns, bicuspids, or molars

CONVERSATION IN THE PUBLIC SQUARE

We used to have a loud demonstration and an occasional riot
But now things have grown refined and quiet
Without mussing a strand of your styled hair
You have a polite “conversation in the public square”
As explained by a commentator using perfect syntax, diction, and grammar

HEFTY LADIES IN A CANOE

There were two hefty ladies in a canoe
One moved her large hip
They started to tip
But the other counterbalanced just in time

BANKING

A bank run occurs when a large number of bank customers withdraw their deposits because they believe the bank might fail. This can destabilize the bank to the point where it faces bankruptcy. In the case of a grocery store, sometimes they go out of business, but they have never suffered from groceryruptcy.

The other day, a certain bank just barely survived a terrible run. Fortunately, the teller had a spare pair of nylons.

A bank panic is a financial crisis that occurs when many banks suffer runs at the same time. To avoid a panic, tellers in different banks were no longer allowed to wear nylons on the same day.

Institutions put into place during the Depression have prevented runs on U.S. commercial banks since the 1930s. The most important legislation was that tellers were required to wear pant suits.

Mervyn King, governor of the Bank of England, once noted that it may not be rational to start a bank run, but it is rational to participate in one once it had started. This was exemplified when an insane teller purposely ripped her nylons, which led to dozens of normal tellers having no choice but to rip theirs.

Banks often project an appearance of stability, with solid architecture and conservative dress. If the teller's dress is sufficiently conservative, then the clientele will not be able to see the run in her nylons.

An Inter-Faith Culinary Visit from St. Nicholas

When what to my wondering eyes did appear,
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny rein-deer,
With a little old driver so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment he must be St. Nick.
More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled, and shouted, and called them by name:
"Now, Knishes! now, Latkes! now Kugel and Kishke!
On, Tzimemes! on, Rugelach! on, Kreplach and Blintzes!
