

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the noseless fisherman whosoever caughteth a herring and smelt."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the blind carpenter whosoever picketh up his hammer and saw."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the deaf farmer whosoever tendeth his crops and herd."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the mute bicyclist whosoever repaireth his tire and spoke."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the legless lady whosoever woreth a dress that faded and ran."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the insensate tailor whosoever seweth pieces of cotton and felt."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the starving orphan whosoever beggeth for food at seven and eight."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the unwelcome landscaper whosoever gathereth branches and leaves."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the terrified swimmer whosoever was taught to drinketh to excess in a tavern and dive."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the exhausted catcher whosoever falleth asleep on the home plate and cot."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the hideous midget whosoever looketh ugly and gruesome."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the dead gardener whosoever planteth a violet and a rose."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the mouthless Dutch florist who awoketh one morning and groweth tulips."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the wingless bird whosoever falleth down the chimney and flue."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the illiterate sunbather whosoever turneth tan and read."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of David on a snowless day whosoever did Goliath slingeth and sleigh.

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the inexperienced dancer whosoever consumeth potassium and lead."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the blocked poet whosoever learneth his subject by memorization and rote."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the elderly elevator operator whosoever raised twenty children."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the new reporter whosoever wenteth into the ice-cream parlor and begoteth his first scoop."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the frugal toucan that liveth as cheaply as one."

On the day of the Sabbath, the Lord spoketh among the disciples of Jesus, and commandeth "Beholdeth thou the miracle of the rain falleth upon the Earth forty days and forty nights, whereupon Noah runneth into the house and witnesseth the kitchen sink."